DRAN WATSON IS DISCHARGED

No Complaint Against Man Who Stabbed Dimmick.

Oran Watson, who slashed Virginia Dimmick in a room at the Germania House on Washington street last Thursday morning with a knife, inflicted wounds that were believed fatal. Watson was discharged from custody at the City Prison late last night, there being no complaint against him.

Dimmick, it was stated in yesterday's TRIBUNE, experienced a complete change of front in the matter and decided not to charge his alleged assailant with any crime.

Chief of Police Hodgkins, therefore, ordered Watson discharged.

Dimmick is reported this afternoon to be slowly recovering.

Praised by a Preacher

From the San Francisco Chronicle, Grand Junction, Iowa.

No higher praise can be given Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People than the many voluntary testimonials from ministers of the gospel which have come from all parts of the country and which have more than supported all the claims made for this excellent medicine.

The most recent endorsement is that coming from Rev. Joseph H. Hill, pastor of the M. E. Church of Grand Junction, Iowa, who says: "I am a firm believer in the efficacy of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the remedy having been used in my family with highly gratifying results. For three or four years I was a sufferer from general debility. I seemed to be lacking in vitality, was tired out most of the time and sleep gave me no rest or refreshment. I was troubled with headache most of the time and although I was not confined to my bed, my illness incapacitated me for energetic work in my pastorate."

A sister-in-law living in Nebraska, who has suffered very much and who has used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results, recommended them to me and I decided to try them. I had taken but one or three doses of the pills when I found that they were helping me and furthermore the remedy brought such relief that I am glad to offer this public recommendation of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People in the interest of suffering humanity.

REV. JOSEPH HILL,
Pastor of M. E. Church, Grand Junction, Ia.

SAYS BURGLARS FIRED HIS HOME

Mysterious Blaze at R. W. Brasher's Residence.

The alarm from box 21 shortly before 10 o'clock last night was for a fire in the rear of R. W. Brasher's residence, 317 Fourteenth street. The origin of the fire is a mystery, though Brasher declares it must have been the work of burglars.

As soon as the blaze was discovered the family began throwing the household furniture out of the windows of the burning house. Along with a lot of bedclothing went a purse containing $20 which Brasher had carefully hidden in a mattress. Before Brasher had a chance to get his children and the mattress had been flung into the street.

This loss was not discovered until the firemen had quenched the flames. Then Brasher aroused the neighborhood with his lamentations, and hundreds of excited treasure hunters joined with him in his search for the money that had been thrown away.

The gold still remains lost. The damage by fire amounts to about $75.

DEATH CLAIMS A GERMAN RED MAN.

Albert Brunner died yesterday at his home on Raymond street near Alcatraz avenue, this city. He was well known both here and in San Francisco as a prominent member of the U. O. R. M. He leaves a widow, Françoise Brunner, and two children, Angeline and Leon Brunner, and was a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Kupfer, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Guillem, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Madden and Victor Elmore. Deceased was a native of Hesse, Alsace.

The funeral will take place from 25 Montgomery street, San Francisco, thence to Red Men's Hall, 519 Lauch street, where services will be held under the auspices of Golden Gate Chapter, No. 71, U. O. R. M., at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon. The interment will be in Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

BURGLARS VISIT OLSEN'S GROCERY.

Burglars attempted to effect an entrance at Olsen's grocery, corner of Seventh and Wool streets, some time during last night. When the clerks arrived this morning they found the windows in the rear of the store broken and several boxes piled up outside the door. It was clearly that there had been an attempted burglary. Nothing else was reported missing, and the police are investigating the case. The work is supposed to be that of boys.

WORK OF PILING CITY'S SLIP BEGUN.

Cotton Bros., the contractors, have commenced the work of piling piles at the foot of Franklin street, preparatory for the dredging of the city's slip in Oakland harbor. This work will occupy some four or five weeks.

Nervous Prostration.

A Noted Boston Woman Describes its Symptoms and Terrors.—Two Severe Cases Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ADELE WILLIAMSON.

"I am so nervous! no one ever suffered as I do! There isn't a well inch in my body. I honestly believe my lungs are diseased, my chest pains me so, but I have no cough. I am so weak at my stomach, and have indigestion terribly, and palpitation of the heart; am losing flesh; and this headache and backache nearly kills me, and yesterday I had hysterics."

"There is a weight in the lower part of my bowels, bearing down all the time, with pains in my groins and thighs—I can't sleep, walk, or sit, and blue—oh goodness! I am simply the most miserable of women."

This is a most vivid description of a woman suffering with nervous prostration, caused by inflammation or some other diseased condition of the womb.

No woman should allow herself to reach such a perfection of misery when there is no need of it. Read about Miss Williamson's case and how she was cured.

Two Bad Cases of Nervous Prostration Cured.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was suffering such tortures from nervous prostration that life was a burden. I could not sleep at all, and was too weak to walk across the floor. My heart was affected so that often I could not lie down at all without almost suffocating. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it worked like magic. I feel that your medicine has been of inestimable benefit to me."

MANY PEOPLE ARE AFTER POSITIONS.

Seven Hundred Applications are Filed With Senator
Fred S. Stratton.

BY GEORGE F. HATTON.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Judging by the way applications for positions in the Custom House are pouring in upon Senator Stratton from Alameda county, the residents over there have the wild idea that all of the 290 positions in the Collector's department are at his disposal and that he will distribute them exclusively among residents of his home county.

As a matter of fact, outside of the three appointments of Chief Deputy, Cashier and Secretary, the Collector has no patronage to dispense. For everything else is under Civil Service. Of course, in connection with the merit system his recommendation from the preference list will count whenever a vacancy occurs, but this is a poor position to figure on, for removals for cause, resignations or deaths are extremely few and far between.

To attempt to compile a list of all those who are endeavoring to land in the Custom House would mean to make this letter look like an extract from a directory. For it is not exaggerating matters one iota to state that fully 700 people have in some form or other made application to Senator Stratton during the past few days. His offices in the Crocker building are besieged by anxious-faced job hunters from early morning until late at night. State Senators and even Congressmen drop in occasionally to urge the claims of those in whom they are directly interested. Every mail brings a deluge of letters consisting either of applications for places or endorsements in behalf of names already presented, while even at his home in Oakland he is haunted at every turn by the omnipresent place-seeker.

Alameda county's aspirants are hard to round up as a whole, owing to the fact that some of them are exercising fancied "pull" through outside sources, but here are a few of those who are expressing an anxious desire just now to serve their country through the medium of the collector's department.

Ex-Sheriff W. H. H. Hussey may be mentioned as a starter—he has no particular job picked out, but would be glad to land anywhere. Stanley Jackson, son of the late Collector, wants to retain the Chief Deputyship he at present holds and is moving sun, moon and stars to do so. George Cook of West Oakland would like a place and as he is related to Senator Stratton's friend, J. A. Folger, he thinks his prospects are fairly good. James Eadie of Oakland is also on the list. He is a cousin of D. Edward Collins and relies upon that influence to pull him through.

I. S. Finch of the Oakland Methodist Church is another. He was Secretary of the Committee that worked for the Church Exemption Amendment, and as Senator Stratton was Chairman of it, he thinks he is in favor from that source.

Peyton W. Metcalf may also be mentioned. He is a son of George D. Metcalf and naturally figures a chance through that line.

Ex-Surveyor General J. W. Shanklin of Berkeley must not be forgotten. He too thinks he sees an opportunity to get upon the Custom House pay roll. Ex-Deputy Sheriff D. F. Macey of East Oakland is urging his own claims while the name part of town has also developed an aspirant in the person of Thomas W. Jenkins of Twenty-third avenue.

Ira W. Wheeler sends in an application from Berkeley, and strange and startling as the news will appear to some, John Aubrey Jones of Oakland is also an active candidate for a place, regardless of the fact that he stamped the State for Bryan during the last campaign.

FIGURING ON RESULTS.

It would be the merest kind of guesswork to discuss where the prizes will go, for Senator Stratton declines to comment on the applications or to include to them in any way. Those who are doing a little figuring on their own account are satisfied, however, that the chief deputyship, with its $3,000, will go to Billy Hamilton, their conclusions being based upon the fact that Hamilton and Stratton are old-time personal friends, and that Stratton was in Hamilton's fight for the Collectorship itself. Should Hamilton move up the ladder in that way the cashier's position of $2,500 a year will be vacated and ex-Surveyor Phelps of San Francisco is making a strong bid for it. The third position, that of secretary to the Collector at a salary of $2,000 a year, is the only other one to be considered, and no particular individual can as yet be associated with it in any way.

By the way, it is as well to correct an impression that has got abroad to the effect that upon his formal installation in the Collectorship Senator Stratton will abandon his law practice until his term expires. He has no intention whatever of the sort, and as a matter of fact if it were a question of abandoning either the Collectorship or his profession, he would surrender the former without a moment's hesitancy. He will therefore conduct his law business in his offices in the Crocker building as usual in conjunction with his partner, Walter Kaufman.

ing as usual in conjunction with his partner, Walter Kaufman.

AFTER COOMBS' PLACE.
The Collector's office is not the only goal of the office seeker nowadays, for the election of Frank Coombs to Congress means that the place, at office he has been holding down in the Appraiser's building as United States District Attorney will become vacant next March. The place is a very desirable one, for in addition to its salary of $4,500 a year it confers considerable legal prestige and is a good stepping stone to future advancement.

There are candidates galore in sight, the principal ones being T. L. Carothers of Mendocino, Congressman Barham, Marshall P. Woodworth, ex-Senator John J. Boyce, General Solomon, Jackson Brule, Harry Melvin and D. E. McKinlay. Each of these has special claims that considered separately would make him look like a winner, but it can safely be said that the contest can be narrowed down to the two first named, with the chances in favor of Barham.

Carothers' claims are very strong for he was originally a candidate for Congress and withdrew under an agreement with Coombs by which it is stated that Coombs agreed to stand behind Carothers for District Attorney in return for the Ukiah man's support in the form of Congressional delegates. This would seem to be strong enough to be a winning card and it undoubtedly would be but for the fact that Barham wants the place. With Barham a candidate it can be seen that the chances of all the others are very slim, for in addition to his service at Washington and his consequent personal acquaintance with the powers that be at the capital he will occupy his seat during the coming session and will therefore be able to cement his position all the more forcibly. It looks, therefore, as if he should experience but little difficulty in getting the entire California Congressional delegation to support him, which would naturally end the proposition.

Marshall Woodworth is the only other candidate who has anything like a fighting chance, and he must be conceded an undoubted opportunity. In view of the fact that he is backed by the local Federal Judges, as the District Attorney is an officer in their courts it stands to reason that their recommendation as to any particular candidate would carry a great deal of weight.

Jud Brule's friends would like to see him land in the office, and if he cannot carry off first prize they would want him in one of the deputyships. Of course, if Woodworth does not win the main position it is not likely that he will be disturbed in his present place as first assistant with a salary of $2,500, in which event the only chance even in the line of possibility for Brule would be the position of second deputy now held by Edward J. Banning at a salary of $2,000.

McKinlay would also be satisfied with a deputyship; in fact is already bending his energies in that direction, being well convinced that the principal prize is beyond his reach. McKinlay has also an eye to the Building and Loan Commissionership now held by Frank Gould and which will fall vacant in May next. The place pays $2,400 a year and would suit McKinlay exactly, so he is making a strong effort for it.

Although ex-Senator John Boyce appears in the list of aspirants for Coombs' place, it is understood that he will be provided for in another way. Apart from the fact of the close struggle that is in progress to succeed Coombs, Boyce does not belong to this district, which might be considered against him. However, this clears the situation for the other prospective place which is expected to occur through the resignation of Frank Flint, at present Chief Deputy United States Attorney for the Southern District. Flint, it is understood, will resign next spring, having received a fine offer to engage in private practice at that time, and Boyce will then step into his vacant official shoes if the connections are made in the manner anticipated.

OSTRANDER'S HARD LUCK.

Election gossip is still going the rounds, an interesting situation being in Merced county, where Nelson Reeder, the Democratic nominee for Superior Judge, defeated Fred Ostrander, the Republican, by a couple of hundred votes. The vacancy in the balance was Judge Law's unexpired term of two years, Law having resigned from the bench a few months ago so that he could act as attorney for an estate and secure a guaranteed fee of $30,000. When Law resigned Ostrander, who was at the time District Attorney, went after the place and upon being assured that he would get it he resigned his District Attorneyship. Governor Gage nominated him all right, and he had the satisfaction of sitting on the bench, but for a few months only, for his defeat last week retroacts on the first of the coming year. As he resigned his District Attorneyship, which would still have had two years to run, it can plainly be seen where the short end of the proposition comes in with him.

SHIELDS' GREAT RUN.
Up Sacramento way the politicians are still talking about the astonishing vote by which Peter Shields was elected to the Superior Bench, the vote he received being probably the largest ever given a candidate in that section. McKinlay carried the county by nearly 1,200 but Shields overcame this majority and was elected by about 1,500. Considering the Republicanism in the atmosphere all over California Shields can well be proud of his victory for it amounts to an endorsement of his record and also bespeaks his personal popularity. When he takes the bench January 1st, a good State office will become vacant, for Shields is at present Secretary of the State Agricultural Society, a position that pays $250 a month. It is well to mention too while his name is under discussion that Prince Poniatowski offered him the position of judge at Tanforan but that Shields declined owing to his judicial campaign.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.

"Corney" Pendleton has been in town most of the week pressing his fight for the Speakership of the House. He is backed strongly by the machinery in the southern part of the State and if the influences at this end also get behind him he is likely to win. Alden Anderson the present speaker though in putting up a hurricane fight for reelection as he not only wants the honor of that particular office but feels that he must have it in order to clear the way to the gubernatorial goal he some day expects to reach. Grove Johnson would also like the place but judging by the way the average politician hereabouts is at sea on the matter it is clear that those who control the wires have not yet committed themselves.

Clark Albert of San Diego is sending out his cards for the Assistant Clerkship of the House. He served in that capacity last term and has friends all along the line.

Although no actual opposition has developed to the reelection of Frank Brandon as Secretary of the Senate, a position he has held since Marcus D. Boruck died, there are a few odds that Brandon would like to see smoothed out. For example, Senator-elect O'Neil of San Jose, where Brandon lives, is a Mackenzie man and as Brandon and Mackenzie are political enemies it is needless to state that O'Neil is not for Brandon. As it is always considered a requirement that a candidate for any office be backed by his home delegation this puts Brandon in an awkward position but he is hard at work pulling strings in other directions and thinks he will get in shape between now and January 1st.

URGING THE FEE CASE.

L. W. Fulkner, Ex-District Attorney of Stanislaus county was in town during the week endeavoring to get the case of Klerman vs. Swan advanced on the Supreme Court calendar. This is the celebrated issue involving the peace and constables and the decision being awaited anxiously all over the State. The Supreme Court has already handled the matter in deciding the cases of Dwyer vs. Parker and Cooley vs. Calaveras County, but Superior Court judges constitute these decrees differently. Judge Minor of Stanislaus in Klerman vs. Swan held that the constable's compensation is governed by the fee bill of 1857 while Judge Law of Merced handed down the opinion that the act of 1857 is unconstitutional and that the remuneration of constables is determined by the County Government Act of the same year. There are constables therefore in Stanislaus county being paid under one law and in Merced under another, the latter officials getting much more than those in Stanislaus. So it is all over the State and there is in consequence anxiety to have the Supreme Court finally determine the matter without further delay. The Klerman case has been at issue many months, all of the briefs having been filed in the Supreme Court as early as last May.

HERE AND THERE.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Jeter was in town during the week. He has experienced a wonderful improvement in health in the past few months and looks and feels better than he has in years.

Judge Frank Kerrigan has gone to Gilroy to recuperate after the ordeals of his recent successful campaign. He will return in a few days.

Senator Tom Flint has been making one of his periodical runs to town from San Juan. He won his Senatorial fight hands down and is now turning his attention again to the gubernatorial end of his ambitions.

Jud Brule has made the city his headquarters of late. His wife is with him and they are domiciled at one of the up-town hotels.

Judge Graham, recently elected to the Superior Bench here, has gone to Paso Robles for a rest-up.

Building and Loan Commissioner McCabe has returned from his down-country expedition.

Ex-Congressman Caminetti came down from Amador during the week and took in the Royal Marine Band. He is congratulating himself now that he did not get that Congressional nomination in the Second district that was carried off by Sprout.

Frank Stone is full of political gossip as a result of his recent protracted visit to New York. He unloaded a lot of old propositions there and had a good time generally.

Joe McCall is back from Nome. He says that the lay-out up that way is much better than most people imagine and that he will return in the spring.

Cyril C. Jackson, Steve Gage's secretary, has returned from Tuolumne county, where he went in search of mining property. He lost 62 pounds on the trip as the mule on which he was riding ran away after he got him into the heart of the mountains and he had to walk back 111 miles to civilization.

Gay Barham is up from Los Angeles and is making the local dudes unhappy for he always carries with him the distinction of being the best dressed man in town.

MEETING OF THE COMMITTEE

The Republican County Central Committee met this afternoon in Judge Stetson's court room.

There were present Messrs. Hempstead, Riley, Miles, Mock, Merriman, Wyckoff, Glover, Daniels, Pierce, T. W. Harris (proxy for Knox) and Bruner.

In the absence of Chairman Freed, W. W. Morrison occupied the chair. In the absence of Clarence Crowell, the secretary, J. H. W. Riley acted as secretary pro tem.

Mr. Riley stated that he had read the minutes of the last meeting from the rough notes taken by Mr. Crowell but was unable to understand the abbreviations.

Mr. Mock said that he was opposed to having minutes presented in that way. The minutes ought to have been written up and presented for approval. The secretary should also be present. They would not discuss the minutes until they adopted them.

Mr. Pierce said the secretary would come along later at a quarter to 3 o'clock.

Mr. Mock said that the meeting was called for 2 o'clock.

On motion of George Pierce, the reading of the minutes was temporarily deferred.

Mr. Mock declared that that was to be the last meeting of the Committee for a time and the minutes should have been properly written up to date.

The reading of the minutes was then temporarily deferred.

Mr. Riley then announced that he had the report of W. H. Hardy, who had collected money for the campaign fund. He wanted to know whether the report should be read before the meeting or whether the Committee should go into an executive session.

Mr. Price favored going into an executive session.

Mr. Mock opposed the idea. He did not favor executive session where public matters were under discussion.

Mr. Riley said that the report showed that some men who had subscribed to the fund had not paid their subscription, and they might not like to have that fact known.

Mr. Mock contended that if any person had subscribed and had not paid their money, that was just the reason why that fact should be made known.

It was decided to have Mr. Hardy's report read, without, however, naming the subscribers or the amount of their subscription.

The report showed that Hardy had collected $532.00, and that in gathering that amount he had done one of the hardest jobs he had undertaken in his life. Three men had subscribed $10 each and had not paid their pledge, although they had promised to send him a check. He had expected, he said, to get "more from Senator Perkins," but the Senator had written him that he (Hardy) must have misunderstood him (Perkins). The Senator said, however, that he would make the amount $50.

A short discussion was then held as to what should be the remuneration of Mr. Hardy.

Mr. Riley favored allowing him $100 for the two months he had worked.

Mr. Mock said that he did not know how much money the fund had and he was opposed to making such an allowance until they knew where they stood.

Mr. Pierce wanted the matter discussed in executive session.

Mr. Mock opposed the idea.

"It is not right or proper," he said, "to have always been opposed to executive sessions. There is no reason when public business of this character is to be transacted that it should be done in secret. The money collected was collected from the public, and the facts should be made known."

Another member said that if persons had subscribed with the understanding that their names should not be published that condition should be respected.

Mr. Mock said that if people had promised to pay and then did not do it that was a very good reason why their names should be published.

The Committee then went into executive session. Mr. Mock alone voting in the negative.

FIRST SIXTEEN YEARS

Determine Structure and Physical Health.

If parents could realize what a crime they commit in permitting children to have heavy drugs during their early life, such drugs, for instance, as coffee, which stunts their growth, prepares them for dyspepsia and nervous wrecks, they would do anything, go to any amount of trouble and care, to change the methods and give their children the advantages that nature demands to produce perfect specimens.

A sixty year old woman writes: "My over-indulgent papa used to say, at the table, 'Why not let the child have what she likes; it won't hurt her any.' He referred particularly to my drinking coffee, which I was very fond of as a child. He honestly thought it didn't hurt me, for with his strong body, apparently without nerves, he was not consciously affected by coffee, but the effect on me—a bundle of nerves—was to develop restlessness and stunt my growth."

"The first effect after drinking coffee was that of delightful exhilaration and I felt courage and strength to attack almost any amount of active work, but in a few hours the reaction came, with misery in my chest, palpitation of the heart, and most unbearable pains in my stomach."

Officially my attention was called to Postum Cereal Food Coffee and we secured some of it. It was prepared according to directions, but breakfast being delayed, the Postum got an extra boiling, which developed all its virtues, and we all fell in love with it from the first moment. The change in our physical health, after drinking Postum was something remarkable.

We have as delicious coffee as any one could ask, but it is a perfectly healthy coffee, and the more we drink of it, in reason, the better we are. I am satisfied that the increasing amount of heart difficulty of late years, among young people is directly attributable to the use of coffee, and it is a great blessing to have so safe and delicious a food coffee as Postum. Please omit my name from publication."—East Haverhill, Mass. Name given upon application to Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battle Creek, Mich.

WILL EXPOUND GOSPEL OF THE SCIENTISTS.

The Christian Scientists of this city are making a great deal of progress. They have two churches here, one of which, now in course of erection at Franklin and Seventeenth streets, will be, when completed, as fine a religious edifice as there is in this city. It is being built of beautiful white stone, with the suggestion of a blue tint, which makes it both unique and beautiful.

The other church holds its meetings in Washington Hall, in East Oakland, and is presided over by Mrs. Paul J. Schafer.

Mrs. Schafer is taking a great deal of interest in the work of extending the doctrine of Christian science, and through her efforts the people of this city will have an opportunity, at a date yet to be determined, of listening to an exposition of the creed by Judge Joseph H. Clarkson of Omaha, Nebraska.

Judge Clarkson was a distinguished member of the bench and bar of the Oakland metropolis. He is a brother of the late Bishop Clarkson of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Nebraska.

He has abandoned his professional duties and has been commissioned as the Universal Lecturer of Christian Scientists for the United States and Canada. He is a speaker of much intelligence and force.

He occupies a position on the board of secretaries of the First Christian Science Church of Boston.

The date of Judge Clarkson's appearance here will be announced later.

Mrs. J. H. Fairchild is the founder of Christian science in Oakland. She had much to do in bringing about the erection of the new church in this city.

SUIT TO FORECLOSE

Simpson on the west side of Telegraph avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets and on the north and south sides of Simpson avenue near Telegraph. The mortgage note was executed November 29, 1894, and bears interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum. It is claimed that no interest has been paid since August, 1899.

SCULPTOR WELLS HAS NO REDRESS.

Judge Ellsworth has affirmed the decision of Justice Quinn in the suit of George E. Lawrence against F. Martin Wells, the sculptor. Lawrence sued to compel Wells from the premises he was occupying in Berkeley, and judgment was rendered in his favor. The case was appealed on a technicality, which Judge Ellsworth decided did not affect the defendant's rights.

BOER TOWNS TO BE DEPOPULATED

DEURBAN, Nov. 17.—The Natal Mercury reports that Lord Kitchener has decided to "depopulate the towns in the Transvaal, owing to the difficulty of dealing with the Republicans when hampered by their civilian population."

NO ALARM OVER SCARLET FEVER.

An unwarranted scare over an alleged scarlet fever epidemic has caused alarm in some sections of the city, but the inspectors of the Health Department report that there is no occasion for this.

It is true, they say, that there have been quite a number of scarlet fever cases, but they quote the monthly reports showing that while there were 23 cases last month, there were but 22 in September, 13 in August and 17 in July, and up to date this month but 15 have been found. And of all these but four fatalities resulted, two of the deaths being in one family.

Scarlet fever is not a particularly contagious disease in any community, and when Oakland's population of 60,000 and over is taken into consideration with only 15 cases of scarlet fever, and Alameda city, about 18,000 population, with 17 cases, there is little cause for alarm.

W. G. HENSHAW BRINGS A SUIT.

W. G. Henshaw has applied to the Superior Court for a writ of mandate to compel the County Superintendent of Schools, T. O. Clark, to issue an order on the County Treasurer in his favor for $2,000.

Mr. Henshaw claims he sold a lot to the Melrose school district for the erection of a new school building. The trustees drew a warrant in his favor on the school funds of the district, but the County Superintendent refused to honor it.

Donovan is Byrne's attorney.

LAST DAYS OF FAIR.

Interesting Sights in the Gay French Capital.

Oakland People Who Will Spend Winter in Paris.

By W. E. DARGIE, JR.
(Special to The Tribune.)
PARIS, France, October 30, 1900.
Now that the Paris Exposition is rapidly drawing to a close and the rainy and cold weather is at hand, it is easily seen from the trans-Atlantic steamship reports that the bulk of travel is now from Europe to America. The great number of Americans who have flocked to this capital during the summer months, spent money freely, patronized the cafes and restaurants liberally, tipped the annoying waiters, and took possession of the city entirely on the Fourth of July, have now diminished so rapidly that even the little Frenchmen have opened their eyes and are wondering how it all happened. No Frenchman ever failed to recognize either an American man or woman on the street, for should there be the slightest doubt, a glance at the foreigner's shoes would be satisfying. To Americans the shoes worn by the French people are simply hideous when compared to the home make, for they are usually long, pointed and very narrow. The stylish neckwear worn by the Americans is another detail, for the cravats worn here are of all shapes and sizes, often wound three or four times around the collar. This is especially so in the Latin quarter.

A UNIQUE SPECTACLE.
It is here that the famous Bal Bullier, the delight of thousands of students, is located. The Bal Bullier is a large dancing pavilion in the heart of the Latin quarter, where each night, particularly on Thursdays, when a fete is given, hundreds of students assemble to pass the evening in dancing and merry making. It is here that the various styles of French garb are seen in all shades. French students are generally poor, but they manage to appear in suitable costumes at these aristocratic balls. Americans are afforded much amusement at this resort, for to see such an array of trousers worn by men that put bloomers, skirts in the shade, large, black, soft hats with colored baby ribbons, mustaches and whiskers trimmed and curled to perfection, and coats and vests that hang like skirts, form an attraction to be seen only in Paris. As for the dancing—well, it is amusing almost beyond description and needs to be seen to be appreciated. Everyone claims to be an artist in his manner of novel dancing, and such steps, swings, jumping and sliding, arms flying in all directions as a signal of immediate danger, together with wearing hats, overcoats and carrying canes while dancing, make this place one of the most enjoyable and interesting to foreigners to be found in Paris.

EXPOSITION PROLONGED.
At the last moment the Exposition authorities have decided to extend the closing date six days in the hope of collecting more of the millions of tickets that are in circulation and remain unused. The attendance throughout the Exposition has been below expectations and the retail price of tickets has dropped from fifteen cents at the time of the opening to three cents, the price a few weeks ago. Lately an advance has been made and the price is now about six or seven cents, according to whom they are bought from. Compare this price with the fifty-cent admission to the Columbian Exposition of Chicago and the immense throngs that daily flocked through the gates of that fair. There have been but four or five days here when the attendance reached over the 500,000 mark, and never has the record-breaking Chicago day, when over 750,000 people passed into the grounds, been reached here.

CALIFORNIA'S TRIUMPH.
California has every reason to feel proud of her success at this Exposition, for no other State in the Union has made such a large and magnificent display of products nor has any other State captured as many medals and high honors. The numerous varieties of woods found in the forestry annex, the mineral section, containing valuable specimens collected from mines of all parts of the State, and the oranges are among the prize winners.

OAKLANDERS ABROAD.
There are still many Californians on this side seeing European life and the closing days of the Exposition. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore Jr., Miss Jacqueline Anne Moore and Dr. J. P. H. Dunn of Oakland, after having seen London thoroughly, spent two weeks here and are this week enjoying Athens and Constantinople. They sail from Southampton on the American liner St. Paul on November 15th and will reach California toward the latter part of the month.

Mrs. Emily Chabot and her three daughters crossed the ocean on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and have been sight seeing in and around Paris during the past few weeks. They are at the Hotel Tremolle and intend to remain on the continent during the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren M. Watson, who have been traveling about Europe for many months, have taken an apartment at 11 rue de Valenciennes for the winter. They will go to southern Italy

DUNGAN MAKES DEFENSE FOR HIRSHBERG.

Says That the Bee's Charges Were Not Sustained.

J. H. Dungan, editor of the Woodland Mail, is one of the trustees of the Preston School of Industry at London, of which David Hirschberg of Oakland is superintendent.

Mr. Dungan, in his newspaper, has the following to say about the charges made against Hirschberg:

"The Bee claims that the trustees of the Preston School 'whitewashed' Mr. Hirschberg in their report.

"At the outset, we would state that Mr. Hirschberg is a Democrat, and all the members of the board are Republicans. This alone goes far to disprove that charge.

"Again, we took the testimony of Mr. Deveraux and weighed it against that of nearly every employee in the institution before rendering our verdict. The Bee, on the other hand, took Mr. Deveraux's testimony alone unsupported by any corroborative evidence other than hearsay.

"We also took the records of the institution, which are always open to the inspection of the public.

"We frankly acknowledge that there was a case of immorality last March, an account of which appears in the record-book; also the nature of the punishment meted out to the boys implicated. This is the only case of the kind that has occurred during Mr. Hirschberg's superintendency, and he has taken extra precautions to stamp it out. This is a practice that is incidental to all institutions of a like nature and is always carefully guarded against but never entirely suppressed.

"We found Deveraux to be a petulant cranky old man who had succeeded in incurring the enmity of the boys and other employees and proved to be a general disturber. Mr. Hirschberg should have discharged him several months before, but his kind heart would not allow him to.

"We have found Mr. Hirschberg to be a perfect gentleman and he has tried hard to carry out the intent of the law and make the institution what it should be, his school for the boys and the public benefit of their views through the columns of their paper. This is a very deserving institution and should be fostered and protected and the inmates encouraged in every manner possible. Continued criticism, but a very bad effect, both as regards the officers and inmates. Lend them a word of encouragement occasionally and it will be greatly appreciated."

In the spring and remains at some of the coast towns for some weeks and after completing the circuit, will return to Oakland early in 1902.

Among the latest to arrive is Mrs. Marcus of New York, who is stopping at the Grand. She was a resident of Oakland some years ago, and as Lillian Berkman was one of the leading society belles.

Mrs. Charles MacDermott, her two daughters and son, Louis M. MacDermott, have arrived and are located at the Hotel Cap. They intend to remain on this side several months.

W. W. Foote, Miss Bertha Foote and Mrs. Aldrich are at 12 Boulevard Malesherbes. They are contemplating many trips on the continent and have made no definite plans for returning to California.

Miss Grace Hibborn and her mother, Mrs. L. E. Hibborn, arrived a few days ago and are located for the present at 1 rue du 29 Juillet.

Mrs. Florence Hyde-Chick of Berkeley arrived here a short time ago after a long trip on the continent and is domiciled with Mrs. J. O. Whitney, formerly of Oakland, at 65 Boulevard Arago. Mrs. Chick will remain several months in Paris and may not return to California until the spring.

Mrs. William G. Henshaw, Miss Alice Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Gas-kill, L. A. Enlay of Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wright, J. W. Keystone, A. W. Scott, J. A. Fletcher of San Francisco, Miss Julie Noy of Alameda, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Elman of Oroville and Mrs. W. B. Rising and her two daughters of Berkeley are among others of the California colony who are still in town.

The California headquarters at the Place de l'Opera, which have been highly appreciated by all visiting Californians during the year, will close shortly.

DAMAGE BY THE STORM.

Small Cyclone Creates Havoc in West Oakland.

H. M. Sanborn Says the Rain Last Night Beat Record.

Oakland experienced a cloud-burst and small-sized cyclone shortly after 7 o'clock last night that raised havoc with trees, fences and housework.

The storm was the most severe that has ever visited this section of the State, and was a strong reminder of the inclement and furious weather that Easterners go through occasionally.

The storm raged fiercest in the vicinity of Adeline street to the Point at West Oakland and from Sixth street to Eighteenth on the north.

In that district huge trees that have withstood many storms in years gone by were felled low, as were also numerous telegraph poles and fences, and at least one home, that of James P. Allen, 121 Adeline street, a few hundred feet from Eighteenth, was almost totally wrecked, while from several other houses the roofs were practically torn off.

The roof of the Allen residence was lifted off as easily as a cork lifts the lid from a bottle; the timbers beneath were wrecked and the rain poured down into the rooms, the plaster being soon knocked off the walls and ceiling. All of the furniture in the upper rooms was practically destroyed by the rain, and it was necessary for the Allen family to appeal to neighbors for quarters and dry clothing.

At the home of D. C. Owens, next door to the Allen, the blinds were snatched from their hinges and a section of the rear stairs of the residence was blown down. A portion of the fence built upon an embankment was also blown over, and numerous trees in the vicinity were virtually uprooted.

A loss of shutters was also experienced at the home of Mrs. Captain Miller, at the northeast corner of Eleventh and Adeline streets; and here too the fences were blown down and beautiful shrubbery was ruined, while a tall cypress in the rear yard was forced to the ground. A shed, too, was leveled, and because of an open window in the Miller residence a lamp was blown over so that there was very near added further destruction by fire, but the overturned lamp was quickly extinguished by one of the members of the Miller household and thrown out into the street.

Through the entire block damage was caused in the path of the storm. The home of Colonel John P. Irish suffered slightly, and about the palatial old Fordway residence several hundred feet of board fence was wrecked on the Adeline street side. Here, too, trees and valuable shrubbery were ruined.

Going to a big billboard on Seventh street near Adeline being blown across the railroad tracks, the several loads were delayed until the wrecked board could be removed.

The electric car system seemed temporarily demoralized during the rage of the storm. Cars on the Eleventh, Twelfth and Fourteenth street systems were delayed by reason of uprooted trees being thrown across the tracks.

Those who found comfortable shelter in their warm homes did not escape full knowledge and realization of the storm's severity, for houses throughout West Oakland were quite well shaken up.

The storm, however, was by no means confined entirely to West Oakland, for at the northwest corner of Ninth and Broadway a building in the vicinity of Henry Meyer's residence of the occupants were injured.

The severest part of the storm lasted only a few minutes, fortunately, and the downpour was such as Oakland in all its history never before experienced.

"It was indeed quite unusual," said H. M. Sanborn, the forest and local weather prophet, "IN FACT, MORE RAIN FELL LAST NIGHT INSIDE OF TEN OR FIFTEEN MINUTES THAN HAS EVER FALLEN IN THE HISTORY OF OAKLAND IN A LIKE PERIOD OF TIME."

The Hutchinson rain gauge showed that 59 of an inch of rain fell over night, and two-thirds of this amount came down during the few moments of that storm.

Notwithstanding the culverts and gutters throughout the storm-stricken district have just received a complete cleaning, the downpour last night proved more than these conduits could cope with. Branches of trees and leaves blown by the wind and washed down into the gutters by the torrent of rain caused many of the culverts to become stopped, thereby flooding the streets at all such points.

Street Superintendent Ott has received reports of stopped culverts and flooded places from residents along Fourteenth street at Linden, Myrtle and Adeline; Eighth between Brush and Castro, and Seventh and Jefferson. The sewers, however, withstood the intense pressure fairly well.

Serenade for Col. O. F. Long at Highlands

Army and Navy Men to Honor the Officer.

Big Military Band Will Supply the Music.

There have been many and varied social functions at Highlands, the princely home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Requa, and the home of Colonel and Mrs. Oscar Long, Colonel Long is in charge of the transport service of the United States at San Francisco, but none of these functions have been reserved exclusively for defenders of the flag on both land and sea. It is true that, in the past, among the guests there have been many commissioned men from both firing-line and conning tower, but, tonight, for the first time, will the home and grounds be taken possession of exclusively by men who wear the blue.

This event will be in the nature of a surprise, a compliment, and a tribute to Colonel Long who has just returned from a trip to Washington.

In it will take part the officers of the transports of the Government now in San Francisco, the commandant and subalterns at Mare Island Navy Yard, officers of the fighting ships at that point and near San Francisco and all the leading gentlemen with shoulder-straps at the Presidio.

They will appear in full-dress uniform with a full regimental band. They will appear on the scene shortly after 8 o'clock and pay their respects to Colonel Long and his wife, formerly Miss Amy Ingham, daughter of the liberal host of Highlands.

This demonstration has been inspired by the deep brotherly feeling entertained by the country's defenders for Colonel Long as also by an appreciation of his arduous and successful labors in the conduct of the transport service at San Francisco from the time of the shipment of the first troops to Manila to the present time.

The manifold difficulties of the post which has been filled so ably by Colonel Long are known to many but they are in a special manner understood by the officers who have had dealings with the Colonel.

The successful outcome of Colonel Long's recent visit to Washington will not be forgotten in the congratulations which will be extended to him because that is on the same plane as his conduct of the transport business. His successful intervention with the authorities at Washington has opened the doors, manufacturers and markets in this section to the patronage of Uncle Sam. Heretofore, the bulk of the supplies for the transport service has been purchased in the East and shipped to San Francisco with added expense for freight.

Heretofore, these supplies will be delivered for in San Francisco to be delivered at the Presidio or transport dock as the case may be, a concession which places the dealer, manufacturer and producer of the coast on a plane with men in the same lines in the East.

This radical change is to be credited to Colonel Long's efforts and influence and there is no person who will not join with the callers at Highlands tonight in congratulating him over his achievement.

Three Hundred Boys Will Take Part in the Shouting.

Three hundred rosters will cheer the State University football team at the game on Thanksgiving Day.

It will be a great day for the rosters. Milton Schwartz will be the yell leader.

Several new yells have been added to the list this year. Here are a few of the shouts for which prizes were awarded earlier in the season:

First prize chorus by E. M. McCallister: (Air—Trio of "Mousetrap.")
Well up and about, for California,
Up and about for California,
Now's the time to raise our song
And help our football boys along.
So up and about for California,
Up and about for California,
Quick and strong, loud and long,
California, hah!

Among the most popular choruses are:

(Air—"My Ann Elizer.")
Here come the Stanford guys,
We'll give them a surprise,
And open both their eyes,
Teach them football.
Blue and gold can never fail,
You can't twist the bear's tail,
We are from California.

ALL FOR THE SAKE OF CALIFORNIA.

For the sake of California many things we do.
Today we're celebrating for the Gold and Blue.
It may appear we're singing here
Of things that are both strange and queer,
But it's all for the sake of California.

For the sake of California many things we do.
Today we're celebrating for the Gold and Blue.
We've got our ax, they're full of tax,
And now the chills run up their backs,
All for the sake of California.

CROKER IS NOT WANTED IN LONDON

Charges Against the American Jockeys Not Sustained.

Startling Charges Made Against Joseph Chamberlain

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Minimum news and maximum rain were the distinguishing features of the week. Each gloomy, wet day as has been experienced here recently are unusual, even for London. Joseph Chamberlain, that central figure in British politics, can corroborate himself, for more reasons than one, upon his absence from his murky native land. He is dispersing himself on the sunny Mediterranean. Thus the Colonial Secretary is temporarily safe from the effects of the vicious personal attacks which continue to be made on him by the Liberals, from Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman down.

The latest and most important of these is a statement made by the Morning Leader showing that Mr. Chamberlain holds 17.0 of shares in the Colombo Commercial Company, which is receiving large contracts for housing Boer prisoners in Ceylon. What makes the case still more damaging is the fact that Mr. Chamberlain is a shareholder in the same company, a regulation laid down by the Governor of Ceylon, strictly prohibiting any officer of the local government from interfering himself or his family in private business. In other words, Mr. Chamberlain forbids his subordinates, under pain of severe penalties to do what he himself is doing on a large scale. It now seems impossible for Mr. Chamberlain to avoid explanations, for which he will undoubtedly be asked when Parliament reassembles.

Another feature in the same connection, of which the Liberals are making no little capital, is the extraordinary number of directorships in private companies held by government officers. Of the twenty Cabinet Ministers thirteen are directors, while between all the thirty-six Ministers twenty-seven directorships are held. The list commences with Lord Salisbury, who assists in the management of an insurance company, and includes Lord Seaborne, who is both first Lord of the Admiralty and a director of the Imperial and Oriental Steamship Company; General Buller, who holds a directorship in an aluminum company with the presidency of the Board of Trade, and many other incongruous associations, several of the companies being financially discredited. With such flagrant weak spots in the armor of the new Cabinet it is no wonder the Liberals are importing Lord Hombury to lead the party. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's appeal to the ex-Premier only added the feeling of the majority of the party, but it was accompanied by such liberal denunciations of the alleged imperialists that it can scarcely be expected to produce much result.

There is a strong intimation in many quarters that Lord Durham is particularly anxious to curtail Richard Croker's English racing career and that the fight against the latter's horse, The Scotchman II, was largely due to his being the owner of that racer.

FATHER-IN-LAW GETS A BLACK EYE.

J. W. Haslet appeared in the Police Court this forenoon to answer to a charge of disturbing the peace, quiet and tranquility of his son-in-law's brother, a Mr. Judey, residing near Center-street station. Mr. Haslet's left eye bore painful traces of a past conflict with fists.

It appears that Haslet called at his son-in-law's home last night and created a noise of a disturbance than is usually expected from even an obstreperous mother-in-law, so young Judey took him to task for his temerity, when a row ensued, wherein the father-in-law was worsted. Judey thereafter caused Haslet's arrest, but he declined to prosecute and Judge Smith ordered the charge stricken from the calendar.

the water ran in swift streams and was high enough to reach above the bottom of the ordinary vehicles of traffic. Many houses and small boats and chimneys blown down. The ships in the quartermaster's department on the bank of the Pasig were badly damaged and dozens sailed all over the coast for miles. The Fourth cavalry's stable and barracks at Baguio and Manila were completely demolished, little more being left than the stalls and supports. Following the custom, all the ocean shipping took warning when the tide was in, and fled to the shore and sought refuge in the bays. The river and bay craft lost no time in getting behind the breakwater, but some of the sailing vessels were caught when the tide could be raised to safe places, and many of these craft were considerable loss. One big schooner was washed high and dry on the sand of the Luneta, and there it is likely to stay until broken up. Many of the sailing vessels line the beach from Manila to Cavite, and some of them will remain there to rot or burn as the natives with firewood.

There is a rice famine in the Camarines, the district that has given so much trouble from bandits and semi-organized insurgents. The constant fighting has told heavily on the country and agriculture of all kinds has been suspended. Reports from the American garrisons state that the rice on hand is not sufficient to feed the population of 20,000 for a few days. Spanish merchants prefer to import rice in small quantities, selling it for as much as $15 a caban. A caban of rice sells today for $3. The population of the province is estimated at 50,000, and to feed the people an importation of 1,000 cabans a day will be necessary for a long time to come. Besides the enormous work necessary to clear the wood-grown fields and to build up the rice fields, nearly all the cattle have been

why. A couple of hours after I'd been taking the cashier's dictation he dictated to me a telegram that read in effect like this:

National Bank, New York:

"Pay to John J. Blank, without identification, $10,000."

"Do you catch the nub of that? I ran the telegram off on my typewriter and handed it over to the cashier. He sent a messenger to the telegraph office with it. You see, John J. Blank—just to that name—was one of the bank's depositors. He happened to find himself in New York City worth $10,000. So he wired his Chicago bank to make him good with the New York bank for that amount, and the bank complied with this method."

"Well, there were four or five more telegrams just like that, and some of them for even larger amounts in the course of that first day I worked at the bank, and of course I saw then what kind of a business had to write telegraphic dispatches of that character. It would have been the simplest thing in life for me to have stationed tabs on a given date in New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, New Orleans, San Francisco, all over the country, as a fact, and then to juggle off a without-identification telegram to each of them and send them myself during the lunch hour, and every one of my confederates would have got the money, without question, and I could have been there that evening, and met up with the gang of them in the City of Mexico, or somewhere for my part of the take-off. And there were any number of other ways," said the confidential stenographer of the cashier of the bank, I could have made a big haul and then have been absent without leave, so to speak."

never had any such temptation, however. The life of a bank clerk, as being a shadow that I'd had before, seemed to work in the bank was sufficient. My salary and footlooseness looked good the driver usually sits on his horse's long tail, to keep him steady in his gait. All the driving horses of Russia, by the way, have long tails. The coachman of an ordinary Russian carriage takes no trouble to prevent the horse from drooping about his horse's hind legs, and, consequently, however, the reins rarely become entangled with the tail, and even if they should do so the horses never kick. This striking fact is an eloquent answer to those who uphold the cruel practice of docking a horse, on the grounds that otherwise he is liable to flap his tail over the reins.—Pearson's Magazine.
